PIG PERSONALITY TEST

Where is your pig on the page?

TOP: You tend to be optimistic and often point out the positives.

MIDDLE: You are realistic and often approach situations with logic.

BOTTOM: You tend to be pessimistic and often notice the negatives.

Which direction is your pig's body facing?

LEFT: You believe in tradition, you're friendly and extroverted, and you tend to remember dates.

RIGHT: You are creative, active, or athletic, and you prefer organization and structure, but you tend to forget dates.

FORWARD: You are direct and enjoy debate, and you also tend to play devil's advocate.

What is the size of the pig on your page?

SMALL: You may either be a shy, quiet person or struggle to find confidence in yourself at times.

MEDIUM: You see yourself as equal with others, often demonstrating respect, honesty, and leadership qualities.

LARGE: You are secure in who you are, but you'll often be stubborn and stick to your ideals.

Other than the normal details (body, legs, head, ears, nose, and tail) how many EXTRA details does your pig drawing have?

LESS THAN 5: You are energetic, care less about the details, and tend to take risks.

MORE THAN 5: You are analytical, focused, and tend to be more of a cautious person.

How many legs does your pig have?

ALL FOUR: You feel grounded, focused, and comfortable.

LESS THAN FOUR: You may be experiencing a period of change in your life.

Are the eyes the same size?

YES: You are well-balanced, motivated, and looking towards the future.

NO: You may be unsure about what you want to do in the future.

How big are the ears on your pig?

The LARGER the ears, the better you listen to others. SMALL ears means that you prefer to talk!

How long and curly is your pig's tail?

The LONGER and CURLIER the tail, the more committed you are to completing your school work.
